

“Falling in Love with Mary”

Saturday, December 1, 2018
St. Linus Church, Dearborn Hts

Three priests will give their personal testimonies of how Our Lady influenced their priestly vocations

Father Mark Livingston - Before starting seminary studies, Father Mark worked in various capacities of business and social work. Straying from the Faith in his teen years, he drifted even further away until, in his early thirties, Mark received the grace of conversion. He attributes his radical conversion to the Blessed Mother’s tender love and intercession. Father is currently Associate Pastor at St. John Neumann Parish in Canton.

Father Tony Fox - Father Tony comes to us from Australia. Upon receiving the Conventual Franciscan habit as a novice, Father consecrated his priesthood to the Immaculate Virgin Mary. He was elected by his religious province as the National Director of the Militia Immaculata and National Spiritual Assistant to the Secular Franciscan Order. He also served as the National Chaplain to the Blue Army of Our Lady of Fatima Australia. He credits his Marian devotion to observing his mother praying the Rosary late at night in secret because his father opposed all religion.

Father Daniel Zaleski - Father Dan worked as a farmer, construction worker, company inspector, bartender, barber, for Ford Motor, and in the U.S. Army Reserve. Called to the priesthood in 1971, he moved to Rome and entered a religious community. He was ordained in 1980 by his late uncle, Bishop Nicholas Sasnowski of the diocese of Poland. After serving in Boston and Alton, Illinois, he moved to the Detroit area where he became associate pastor of St. Pius, St. Veronica, St. Theodore, and is now pastor of St. Albert the Great Parish.
